

Daniel Erdmann

tenor, soprano & baritone saxophones

Born in 1973 in Wolfsburg, Germany, Daniel Erdmann began to play the saxophone when he was ten years old and studied from 1994 to 1999 at the National Music School Hanns Eisler in Berlin, with teachers like Gebhard Ullmann, Jiggs Whigham, Aki Takase...

He founded his own band «Erdmann 2000» in 1999, with Frank Möbus (guitar), Johannes Fink (bass) and John Schröder (drums), three famous musicians of the german jazz scene. This band, now called Erdmann 3000, published its third CD, «Supermivrogravity» in 2007 (Enja Records), noticed- by all european jazz critics. Its third CD, a live in Berlin will be out on october 2010 (Quark Records).

Daniel Erdmann also created Das Kapital with guitarist Hasse Poulsen & drummer Edward Perraud in 2002. They produced two first Cds and created two shows with swiss filmmakers Nicolas Humbert and Martin Otter (Wonderland in 2006 and Lenin on tour in 2008). Their last Cd dedicated to german composer Hanns Eisler was a real success with great echoes in jazz medias, allowing the trio to play a lot of concerts.

In 2007, Daniel Erdmann joined the band of Finish saxophone player Miko Innanen, Innkvisitio, and he recently participated to its last CD wich will be out on october 2010.
